Breaking: The Browns are waiving tight end Dae'Quan Wright and, if he clears waivers, he has an agreement in place for the 2026 season to play for LSU, his agents told Adam Schefter.

Wright is believed to be the first player who could play for an NFL team, and then go back to play in college.

ALMATY, Aug 23 (Reuters) - A newly formed pro-government party won a large majority in a snap parliamentary election in Kazakhstan on Sunday, three different exit polls showed, in a result set to cement President Kassym-Jomart Tokayev's power over the country, a major energy and minerals exporter.

The exit polls, which were published on Kazakh state media, showed the Adilet party winning between 70% and 72% of the vote, with a turnout of more than 74%. The exit polls said four small opposition parties also won seats, though they too are widely seen as ultimately loyal to Tokayev.

The victory of Adilet, which was formed earlier this year by the president's top aides and which swiftly absorbed previous long-ruling party Amanat, is likely to deepen Tokayev's control over the country at the expense of figures more closely linked to his predecessor, Nursultan Nazarbayev.

A former Soviet diplomat and top United Nations official, Tokayev has led Central Asia's largest economy since 2019, keeping warm relations with the West, Russia and China.

Sunday's election was triggered by the adoption of a new constitution earlier this year, which streamlines parliament from two chambers into one. Kazakhstan's Supreme Court said last month the new constitution allowed Tokayev to run for a fresh seven-year term.

Tokayev took office as the chosen successor of Nazarbayev, Kazakhstan's founding president, who ruled from 1991 to 2019. He broke with Nazarbayev after a 2022 bout of unrest that he has cast as a coup attempt by Nazarbayev allies.

Voting in the capital, Astana, Tokayev told journalists it was too early to say whether he would seek another term.

He also said he would announce his choice of vice president, an office created under the new constitution,

ATTY. JESUS FALCIS, MAGAPASAKA SANG ADMIN COMPLAINT BATUK SA ISA KA PRINCIPAL NGA GIN-AKUSARAN NIYA NGA NAGLAPAS SANG SAFE SPACES ACT

Magapasaka sang administrative complaint ang abogado nga social media personality nga si Jesus Nicardo Falcis III, nga may social media name nga Jesus Falcis, batuk sa isa ka principal sa Masbate.

Sa Facebook, ginpahayag ni Falcis nga ginlapas ni Randy Emmanuel V. Bulanon sang Dimasalang National High School ang Space Spaces Act sa idalom sang Gender Based Online Sexual Harassment bangud sang social media posts sini.

Sang damlag lang, naggwa ang screen shot sang posts ni Bulanon nga nagatuhoy sa iya, kay Akbayan Party-list Representatives Chel Diokono kag Perci Cendaña nga nagalakip sang bayolente nga komento, physical appearance kag kasablagan.

Suno pa kay Francis, na-promote si Bulanon sang Hunyo sang nagligad lang nga tuig bilang Principal III.

YET ANOTHER STRING OF LIES FROM A GENERAL LIAR?

There is, once again, a venomous post from a red-tagging, murderous, Duterte-era general painting Ninoy Aquino as a traitor using false, misleading, or distorted information.

Let us be certain about some HISTORICAL points:

1. Ninoy Aquino did not use a "Malaysian" passport when he came back. (But under a false name? Yes.) That is an old propaganda line from Marcos apologists.

2. Ninoy Aquino did not collaborate with the Communist Party of the Philippines (CPP) to bomb Plaza Miranda on August 21, 1971, twelve years before his own murder. Not even the former CPP cadres who pointed the finger at the late Jose Maria Sison (an allegation that was thrown out by the courts, by the way) mentioned Ninoy as a conduit.

Aug 24, 2026 09:18:33

3. That old fiction — Ninoy Aquino would facebook

by the way) mentioned Ninoy as a conduit.

3. That old fiction — Ninoy Aquino would have given up Sabah if he were elected to Malacañang — is a devious fib. He might have had friendly ties with both the Malaysians and our Moro brothers in Mindanao, but it is not quickly tantamount to collusion to subvert national interests.

After all, in 1977, while Ninoy languished inside his Fort Bonifacio cell, Ferdinand Marcos Sr. himself DROPPED our nation's claim to Sabah.

4. The Moro resistance started because of the Jabidah Massacre, a historical fact that this general continues to deny.

5. It is a huge trap to ascribe the Marcos dictatorship's abuses to a certain "unholy alliance" between liberals, communists, and Moros, as this general wishes the public to believe. No one else peddled this lie—except, perhaps, for the dictator himself and his Rolex 12 generals.

The revolutionary situation of the early 1970s, plus the eventual discontent that shaped the final years of the dictatorship, would have still happened because of Marcos Sr. himself and his abusive leadership, not because of opposition forces—armed or unarmed—that "colluded" among each other.

Aug 24, 2026 09:18:37

The latter is a dangerous and ahistorical view of what transpired in the larger anti-dictatorship struggle.

Our country is divided because of generals who collude with politicians — like him — and vice versa. He is a descendant of the Martial Law-era military who views everyone opposing Malacañang as an enemy of the state, and who would do everything to defend the interests of dictatorship, foreign multinational corporations, and his fellow fascist elements.

But we agree with him that August 21 is a day of infamy. It was, indeed, a day of infamy when the whole military and police apparatus, including the Aviation Security Command (AVSECOM), was mobilized to assassinate a dictator's political opponent. Not even the New People's Army or the Moro National Liberation Front had thought

But we agree with him that August 21 is a day of infamy. It was, indeed, a day of infamy when the whole military and police apparatus, including the Aviation Security Command (AVSECOM), was mobilized to assassinate a dictator's political opponent. Not even the New People's Army or the Moro National Liberation Front had thought of assassinating their opponents at our airports, but our military and police did.

Sixteen of them had already suffered imprisonment, but without genuine remorse. No different from this red-tagger, whose military tenure under former president Duterte saw the killings of activists.

This red-tagger of a general wonders why August 21 is a holiday and our main airport named after "the fallen Ninoy Aquino?" Simple. Because people like him, who swore an oath to defend the Republic, murdered Ninoy at that airport tarmac.

The greatest act of treason for a soldier and a police officer is to follow an illegal order to execute a political dissident in broad daylight, at an airport tarmac, in front of the whole world. But where does that start? From seeds of extremist violent mindset honed by vicious counter-insurgency brainwashing, similar t

The greatest act of treason for a soldier and a police officer is to follow an illegal order to execute a political dissident in broad daylight, at an airport tarmac, in front of the whole world. But where does that start? From seeds of extremist violent mindset honed by vicious counter-insurgency brainwashing, similar to the one this general has, which justifies that dissidents are enemies who should be stopped at all costs, even if that includes killing them, as the Philippine military thought on August 21, 1983 and on many occasions before and after that. This general is a good example of that kind of violence. "Never forget" should apply to them, too.

COLOR TV:
A NEW DIMENSION IN PHILIPPINE HOME ENTERTAINMENT
Marketing Trend
November 1966

SOMETIME during the coming Christmas season, Philippine television will start a new era, adding a fourth dimension to the sight, sound and motion of home entertainment: color. So new is color TV, described as “the most revolutionary thing that's happening to television" that when the first regular colorcast starts, the Philippines will also earn the added distinction of being the third country in the world to go into color telecasting, the first and second being the United States and Japan respectively.

As it did in 1953 when it pioneered black-and-white TV, Channel 3 will again set the trend by introducing color programming here. In fact, the launch date of the much-awaited event, originally scheduled for November, was pushed back by a month because of delays in the acquisition of color telecasting equipment.

Eugenio Lopez, Jr., top man at ABS-CBN, said the network's decision to introduce color TV was made back in April. "We wanted to go about it in a leisurely way, knowing how expensive it would be for both the network and the viewers," he explained.

"We knew that the price of a color TV set is very expensive and that it could be a limiting factor. On top of that, suppliers of color TV films are charging fantastic rates. Upon re-examining our position, we decided that the bulk of our color telecasts would be live shows. Because of that decision and other difficulties we have pushed back our launch date to Christmas. The new filmed color TV will go on the air in January. After all, these are fairly new shows, having just started in the U.S. this fall."

By February, by which time many of the technical and production kinks will have been ironed out, Channel 3 expects to present many of its major live shows in color. As Lopez pointed out, the initial attempts will consist mostly of shows that do not require VTR (video-taping).

In terms of production costs, color TV will naturally be more expensive. Props, scenery and costumes must be of a better quality than those used for black-and-white shows since color TV cameras are very sensitive and can pick up the most minute details. There will also be drastic

In terms of production costs, color TV will naturally be more expensive. Props, scenery and costumes must be of a better quality than those used for black-and-white shows since color TV cameras are very sensitive and can pick up the most minute details. There will also be drastic changes is the techniques of make-up and other visual factors.

Before 1967 is over, Lopez is hopeful that most, if not all Channel 3's live shows will be in color. "By then," he added, "it won't be long before the other networks follow. Have you ever seen color TV? Once you do, you'll never find televiewing the same thing again."

Lopez's observation seems to be substantiated by a number of private individuals who have had the rare opportunity to watch color TV. If they have not replaced their black-and-white sets, the only thing that's holding them back is the price of a color TV set, which is anywhere from ₱3,000 to ₱5.000. TV manufacturers, meanwhile, like to stress that even in Japan and the United States, color TV sets are also expensive.

Target: the affluent class. Within a reasonable time after Channel 3 goes into color programming, Lopez figures that the sales target of 3,000 to 4,000 color sets will be met, "If we are wrong." he added, "our error will be in underestimating the demand and the capabilities of our viewers. You see, our estimates have been quite conservative."

Lopez's optimism is based partly on a 1961 Philippines statistical survey of households projection that by this year, a minimum of 40,000 homes will be earning an average annual in-come of ₱20,000 — qualifying them to purchase a color TV set selling from ₱3,000 to ₱5,000. "More-over, the 60,000 car owners registered with the Land Transportation Commission in Metropolitan Manila compose a potential market for color sets." he added.

Of this potential, 40,000 homes ABS-CBN has targeted 3,000 to 4,000 homes to be equipped with color TV within the first year of colorcasts. In addition to the prestige factor, the network plans to utilize all its forces to assist TV dealers in moving color sets as fast as possible.

ABS-CBN has also carefully considered the time factor in inducing the market to shift to color TV sets. Timing was set for the Christmas season, which is also a free spending season for appliance products. This view is substantiated by a Presidential Economic Staff survey of the ABS-CBN has also carefully considered the time factor in inducing the market to shift to color TV sets. Timing was set for the Christmas season, which is also a free spending season for appliance products. This view is substantiated by a Presidential Economic Staff survey of the household appliances industry which shows that the biggest sales of these items are made in December.

More dealer aids. To further assist dealers push the sale of color TV sets, the network has lined up the following types of color telecasting material: (1) color movies and features; (2) color series and spectaculars; (3) color commercials, slides, und cartoons.

The network's initial schedule for color casting will cover afternoons and evenings, intermittently from 12 noon to 12 midnight. From noon to 2:00 p.m., the color test pattern will be broadcast for set alignments. Color movies will be telecast daily from 2:00 to 4:00 p. m. to assist dealers in attracting display set viewership. In the evenings, an average of 21 1/2 hours of color programs will be televised over Channel 3.

Another promotional support for dealers will be subtitles on all color programs. As a network man put it, "This will be to remind black-and-white set viewers what they are missing."

Another promotional support for dealers will be subtitles on all color programs. As a network man put it, "This will be to remind black-and-white set viewers what they are missing."

Lopez said commercial rates will generally be competitive to black-and-white commercial rates ranging from ₱600 to ₱800 per spot. Leaning over backwards, ABS-CBN will give two bonus spots to TV dealers who sell color sets.

Under the arrangement, every dealer's commercial for color sets will be matched by two of the network's own commercials to sell color TV sets, with full product and dealer identification. The bonus 60-second commercial will consist of two 30-second portions: the first half promoting color viewing in general, the second half promoting the sale of the particular brand of color TV set concerned.

Channel 3 has also installed a 35-mm telecine projector to accommodate color commercials in 35-mm to eliminate reduction costs. It is further claimed that such equipment would actually double the usage of color commercials. If a black-and-white commercial, however, is used in a color show, a color surcharge will be imposed due to extra print costs.

due to extra print costs.

Complementing the efforts of the channel's programming and sales departments is the engineering staff, which is leaving no stone unturned in assuring quality colorcasts. As an ABS-CBN man said, "Our engineering staff is giving you its total guarantee that color transmission, starting on the very first second of telecast. will be 100 per cent perfect."

"All of us recognize that the biggest factor is costs." Lopez said. "But with technological advances in the electronics field, it shouldn't be long before some breakthrough is achieved that would bring down the price of sets and also the equipment necessary for colorcasting."

Admitting that initial costs would come rather high. Lopez said everyone at ABS-CBN has no illusions about this project. "Many of them who were with Channel 3 when it started telecasting in 1953 remember that their initial efforts were met with general skepticism by the public the sponsors, the advertising agencies and the appliance dealers," he emphasized.

"But take a look at the situation today. Certainly, TV is here to stay. I know it will take time and money but the same thing will happen to color TV. Of count we are happy to say we pioneer both black-and-white and color telecasting here. "

Optimistic supplier. Adolfo Duarte of Philippine Electronic Industries, authorized local representative of RCA products, feels that there will be a growing demand for color TV sets here. As basis for this view, he cited the numerous inquiries received by his company and the fact that out of the 1,000 color sets he brought in kit form after a recent trip to the U.S., 500 have already been bought by Radiowealth for assembly and distribution under that company's own brand.

Duarte expects to sell the is remaining 600 kits to various assemblers for the next three or four months. "Among stateside brands that are most likely to introduce color TV sets here," he stated, "are definitely Zenith and Motorola. And I presume, the other stateside brands will follow."

Although it is not generally known, Duarte said there could very well be a few thousand color TV sets already installed in Philippine homes. A great portion of these are in the homes of American servicemen in US military bases. The others are in the homes of wealthy Filipinos and members of the cosmopolitan community, who in the course of their travels abroad, have brought back color TV sets either a few years ago or recently.

"If things go well," Duarte observed, "the industry expects to sell from 4,000 to 5,000

"If things go well," Duarte observed, "the industry expects to sell from 4,000 to 5,000 color sets by the end of 1967. On our part, the big problem involves the technical aspects of TV servicing and repair. This early, we started training our men for color TV work."

Citing the unusually heavy demand for color TV sets in the U.S.. Duarte said there may even be a shortage of American-made color sets here. "As for Japanese brands, these can be strong in the 17-inch and 19-inch sets. But when it comes to 21-inch and other bigger picture tube sets, the stateside brands are hard to beat, both in price and technology," Duarte added.

In addition to the technical aspect, he said that the problem basically would be programming. "If viewers can be assured ample colorcasting time, I think we can very well expect to meet our sales targets."

Impact Of color TV. Electronic Age magazine, in a recent report on the growth and impact of color TV in the U.S.. said that color was essential to stations for the following reasons:
(1) color brought added prestige and identified the station with this major advance in mass communications;
f2) color attracted new clients and sponsors because advertisers recognized it as an exceptional tool for merchandising. Stations reported increases in sales volume directly f2) color attracted new clients and sponsors because advertisers recognized it as an exceptional tool for merchandising. Stations reported increases in sales volume directly attributable to the addition of color;

(3) higher program ratings resulted from color programs;
(4) the impact of color commercials was shown to be 55 per cent greater than the impact of black-and-white commercials;
(5) local retail promotions of color helped build a strong viewer image of a progressive station and also created excellent relations with merchants, which in turn developed new business; and
(6) TV stations, like other businesses, could not stand still and color represented the future of TV programming.

With American networks now nearly hitting 100 per cent mark in color programming, the growth of U.S. color households is fast increasing. In fact, the growth has been so rapid that manufacturers have had difficulties keeping up with the demand.

In 1965, color TV was the biggest individual item in retail dollar value among the major house-hold appliances, accounting for $1.5 billion in retail sales in the U.S. At the close of 1965, US color TV households was estimated at 5.2 million, a gain of 2.4 million or 85 per cent over the color household figure of 2.8 million at

In 1965, color TV was the biggest individual item in retail dollar value among the major house-hold appliances, accounting for $1.5 billion in retail sales in the U.S. At the close of 1965, US color TV households was estimated at 5.2 million, a gain of 2.4 million or 85 per cent over the color household figure of 2.8 million at the start of 1965.

On the basis of this growth rate and the expanded abilities of manufacturers to meet the continued strong consumer demand in 1966, it is a certainty that before the year is over, color home circulation in the U.S. will approach the 10 -million mark.

In a speech before delegates to a seminar on color TV of the Association of National Advertisers in the U.S., Thomas E. Coffin, vice-president for research of the National Broadcasting Corp., described color TV owners as “active and affluent ... free spending ... venturesome, convenience-oriented, status-minded ... and fascinated with color TV. These are the opinion molders, the market-leaders, the vanguard who have the money and the turn of the mind to catch your new idea first, seize it and go out and spread it. And if I may say so, you know how to reach them: on color television.”

television.

Color TV in Japan. In Japan, the second country in the world to go into color telecasting, it is now possible to see color TV in 93 per cent of its national area. The total length of color TV time per day has increased to nine hours and 11 minutes, combining broadcasts by such major networks as NHIK, NTV, TBS and others.

Over 100,000 sets are in use and it is estimated that by year’s end, 250,000 will be installed. Recent technological improvements have removed the instability of images due to the influence of terrestial magnetism. The use of rare element luminous bodies has brought better color balance. On the production side, Japanese colorcasts have improved considerably since its broadcasting was licensed in 1960. With technological breakthroughs and mass production, the price of color TV sets has been brought closer within the reach of more Japanese consumers.

2. Distributors feel the market will be limited for the first few years; others think it would create a new market and bring it more business; still some believe the market is not ready for color TV, principally because the prices of these sets would be prohibitive.
3. Among a total of 84 advertising agencies and advertiser, manufacturers (18 and 66 respectively), the general feeling ii that Channel 3’s introduction of color TV is progressive, a good start, and offers a new medium in advertising.
4. Less than half of the above group, however, think the project is expensive, premature, and that there are not enough quality programs to warrant it.
5. Among 66 manufacturers, 42 do not plan to use color TV in their ads; 7 think color TV will make their presentation better; 15 have adopted a wait-and-see attitude; 2 haven’t discussed the matter yet.

Waiting game. Being a new and expensive thing, the other networks, meanwhile, are closed watching how Channel 3 make out when it goes into regular colorcasting.

A similar let's-study-the-situation-first thinking prevails among a number of TV assemblers, distributors and retailers. "We don't want to be either optimistic off pessimistic," an appliance distributor said. "We know that our country is beset by a multitude of economic problems. But on the other hand, one can never underestimate the Filipino's innate love for luxuries, even at the expense of more basic needs. Until the first appreciable results come in we're not making any plans. You can be sure, though, that when the market is created, we'll be in there, selling."

NO TO TOTALLY ROBLOX BAN ❗

Matagal na ginawa ang roblox, at kaya yun ginawa dahil sa mga nakaka-enjoy na laro; halimabawa na dito ang Grow a Garden, Bloxfruit, Rivals, Steal a brainrot, at marami pang iba. Hindi natin maitatanggi na may mga problema rin sa Roblox, lalo na pagdating sa online safety, inappropriate content, scams, bullying, at pakikipag-interact ng mga bata sa strangers. Pero ang tanong: "Kailangan ba talagang i-ban nang tuluyan ang Roblox dahil dito?"

Hindi Roblox mismo ang nag-iisang problema. Mahalaga rin ang proper guidance ng parents, responsible use ng players, at mas mahigpit na moderation at safety measures mula sa platform. Kung may maling content o taong gumagawa ng masama, dapat itong i-report, imoderate, at aksyunan; hindi agad nangangahulugan na kailangang mawala ang buong platform para sa lahat. Maraming kabataan ang gumagamit ng Roblox hindi lang para maglaro, kundi para makipagkaibigan, maging creative, gumawa ng sariling games, matuto ng basic game development, at mag-enjoy kasama ang ibang tao. May mga Filipino creators at developers din na ginagamit ang platform para ipakita ang kanilang creativity at skills.

Kung may problema sa isang platform, ayusin natin ang problema, hindi agad burahin ang buong platform. Mas kailangan natin ng mas maayos na child protection, stronger moderation, responsible parenting, at awareness sa mga players.

Hindi ibig sabihin ng NO TO TOTALLY ROBLOX BAN na kinukunsinti natin ang mga maling nangyayari sa Roblox. Ang gusto natin ay mas ligtas na Roblox, kung saan protektado ang mga bata at players habang patuloy pa rin silang nakakapaglaro at nakakagawa ng kanilang sariling experiences.

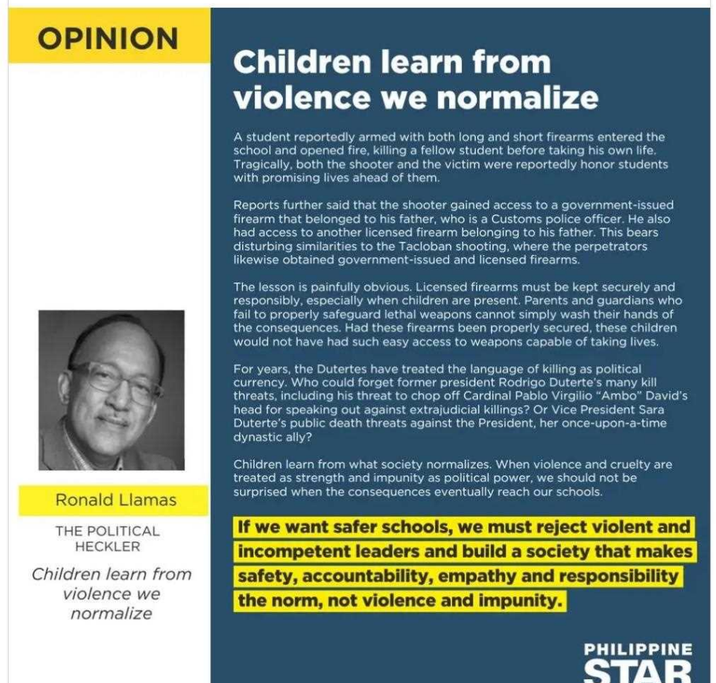
OPINION: Last week, the country recorded its second school shooting in just over a month, this time at Ateneo de Zamboanga High School. Still reeling from the tragic shooting in Tacloban a month ago, which left several students dead and injured, we are once again confronted with the devastating consequences of guns finding their way into a school. http://tiny.cc/f159101



OPINION
Children learn from violence we normalize
A student reportedly armed with both long and short firearms entered the school and opened fire, killing a fellow student before taking his own life. Tragically, both the shooter and the victim were reportedly honor students with promising lives ahead of them.
Reports further said that the shooter gained access to a government-issued firearm that belonged to his father, who is a Customs police officer. He also had access to another licensed firearm belonging to his father. This bears disturbing similarities to the Tacloban shooting, where the perpetrators likewise obtained government-issued and licensed firearms.
The lesson is painfully obvious. Licensed firearms must be kept securely and responsibly, especially when children are present. Parents and guardians who fail to properly safeguard lethal weapons cannot simply wash their hands of the consequences. Had these firearms been properly secured, these children would not have had such easy access to weapons capable of taking lives.
For years, the Dutertes have treated the language of killing as political currency. Who could forget former president Rodrigo Duterte's many kill threats, including his threat to chop off Cardinal Pablo Virgilio "Ambo" David's head for speaking out against extrajudicial killings? Or Vice President Sara Duterte's public death threats against the President, her once-upon-a-time dynastic ally?
Children learn from what society normalizes. When violence and cruelty are treated as strength and impunity as political power, we should not be surprised when the consequences eventually reach our schools.
If we want safer schools, we must reject violent and incompetent leaders and build a society that makes safety, accountability, empathy and responsibility the norm, not violence and impunity.

‘TANTIYA KO LANG PO’

Atty. Amando Ligutan continues his direct examination, asking Gina Acosta how she knew four travelling bags could fit P125 million during the 17th day of the impeachment trial.

“Kasyang-kasya ‘yung P125 million into four travelling bags. ‘Yung tanong is ganito, paano niyo po nalaman na saktong-sakto sa apat na travelling bags ‘yung P125 million? Paano niyo nalaman?” Ligutan asked on Monday.

“Tansya ko lang po, estimate lang,” Acosta replied.

Most Protestants assume the Catholic Church invented mandatory celibacy to control priests, and they love to point out that Peter — the first Pope — was married. “If Peter had a wife, why can’t Father have one?” It sounds like a slam dunk. It sounds like the Church is contradicting the Bible.

But here’s what they’re not telling you.

Yes, Scripture says Peter had a mother-in-law. Matthew 8:14 records Jesus healing her. That’s not in dispute.

I love finding pieces that make styling feel effortless 😌✨ This tie set was one of those finds for me. The patterns look classic, easy to pair, and just detailed enough to make a simple outfit feel a little more elevated.

"CIVIL, PROFESSIONAL KAG RESPECTFUL": COUNCILOR DE LA LLANA, GINKLARO ANG IYA RELASYON KAY COUNCILOR CABALUNA

Ginklaro ni Iloilo City Councilor Jose Maria "Nene" De La Llana ang iya relasyon kay Councilor Sedfrey Cabaluna matapos mag-post ini sang mga litrato nga nagaupdanay sila nga duha.

Nag-umpisa ini matapos may netizen nga nagkomento sa litrato kag naghatag sang atensyon sa pagkapyot ni De La Llana sa paa ni Cabaluna.

Apang para kay De La Llana, wala sang kahulugan ang iya aktwasyon.

"Civil, professional and respectful," pahayag ni De La Llana.

Sa interview sang Bombo Radyo kay De La Llana, iya ginpahayag nga wala sila ni Cabaluna sang personal ukon espesyal nga relasyon.

Natural lamang, suno sa iya, nga nagaupdanay sila sa pila ka okasyon, lakip na ang paniudto kag iban pa nga aktibidad nga ginakadtuan sang mga opisyal sang syudad.

Ginklaro man ni De La Llana nga ang ila pag-update sa isa kag isa kon may mga aktibidad ukon nagakatabo sa syudad kabahin lamang sang ila pakig-angot bilang mga opisyal.

Gani, bisan pa may mga litrato nga nagalapta kag ginahatagan sang nagkalain-lain nga interpretasyon sa social media, ginpabutyag ni De La Llana nga respeto kag propesyonalismo lamang ang yara sa tunga nila ni Cabaluna.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT RECEIPTS, BINAWI NI LACHICA?

Kinuwestiyon ni prosecution counsel Virgil Ligutan ang dating OVP disbursing officer na si Gina Acosta kung may maipapakita itong dokumentong pirmado ni Col. Raymund Lachica na nagpapatunay na natanggap nito ang ₱125 milyong confidential funds.

Ayon kay Acosta, wala siyang hawak na anumang dokumento dahil binawi umano ito ni Lachica, bagay na muling kinuwestiyon ni Ligutan. “Don’t you find it unusual?” tanong niya.

Inalmahan naman ng depensa ang linya ng pagtatanong ni Ligutan. #VPonTrial

National Treasure 3 is finally happening! 🎞️🔥

Director Jon Turteltaub has officially confirmed that the long-awaited third movie is moving forward at Disney, nearly 20 years after National Treasure: Book of Secrets.

A script has already been written and approved by Turteltaub and Disney, with Nicolas Cage set to return as Benjamin Gates. Turteltaub also teased that the original cast could return to the extent possible.

There's no release date yet, but after years of development, National Treasure 3 is finally "Hollywood real"!

Former OVP special disbursing officer Gina Acosta says tree-planting activities were among those covered by confidential funds, as the security officer needed to conduct surveillance before the event to ensure the vice president's safety.

Atty. Amando Ligutan showed a photo of Vice President Sara Duterte's August 13, 2026 tree-planting activity in Nunungan, Lanao del Norte, and asked whether the OVP had confidential funds for 2026.

Acosta said there were none.

The defense objected to the use of the August 13 tree-planting photo, citing irrelevance because the activity took place in 2026, outside the period covered by the articles of impeachment.

Ligutan then pointed out that the tree-planting activity was successfully conducted despite the OVP having no confidential funds for 2026. #VPOnTrial | via Victoria Tulad, ABS-CBN News

When Partisanship Breaches Humanity: The Chilling Recklessness of Wishing Destruction Upon Fellow Filipinos

August 24, 2026

An alarming social media screenshot attributed to a Facebook user named Michael Vera has sparked outrage online, laying bare the toxic depths to which hyper-partisanship can descend in the Philippine digital landscape.

The post, which circulated across platforms including Threads, Instagram, and Facebook, contained the chilling statement:

> “sana earthquake naman tatama sa Luzon kahit 9.9 lang para ubos mga BBM loyalist.”

The statement expresses a wish for an extraordinarily powerful earthquake to strike Luzon and kill supporters of President Ferdinand Marcos Jr. The wording is particularly disturbing because the desired destruction is not limited to political opponents as individuals but encompasses an entire category of people identified by their political allegiance.

The screenshot was already publicly circulating online by May 31, 2026, based on an independently indexed Threads

2026-08-24 11:46:06

The screenshot was already publicly circulating online by May 31, 2026, based on an independently indexed Threads post carrying the same screenshot and quotation. However, the original Facebook post itself is no longer independently accessible through the publicly available Facebook interface, so May 31, 2026 should be described as the earliest documented circulation date of the screenshot, rather than as a conclusively verified original Facebook publication date.

The magnitude invoked in the statement—9.9—would represent an extraordinarily enormous earthquake. By comparison, DOST-PHIVOLCS's established Metro Manila earthquake scenario for movement along the approximately 100-kilometer West Valley Fault involves a magnitude 7.2 earthquake. PHIVOLCS estimates that such a scenario could result in more than 30,000 deaths, approximately 14,000 severely injured persons, extensive structural destruction, and economic losses exceeding ₱2 trillion.

That context makes the statement especially chilling. It is not a wish for a minor inconvenience or isolated political setback. It invokes a hypothetical natural catastrophe capable of causing mass death and destruction and explicitly expresses the desire that political opponents be among those killed.

The June 8, 2026 magnitude 7.

2026-08-24 11:46:11

The June 8, 2026 magnitude 7.8 earthquake offshore Sarangani, which generated tsunami warnings and caused deaths, injuries, and extensive damage, further demonstrates the very real human consequences of major earthquakes in the Philippines. However, the chronology must be stated carefully: the Michael Vera screenshot was already documented in public circulation by May 31, before the June 8 Sarangani earthquake. The two events should therefore not be presented as causally connected without additional evidence.

The statement also raises questions concerning the boundaries between political expression, hateful or violent rhetoric, and potentially unlawful conduct.

The 1987 Philippine Constitution protects freedom of expression, but that protection operates within a broader legal framework. Whether a particular online statement constitutes a criminal offense depends on its precise wording, context, intent, surrounding circumstances, and the applicable statutory elements.

Article 142 of the Revised Penal Code concerns "Inciting to Sedition." It penalizes, among other conduct, incitement to acts constituting sedition and certain expressions or publications that fall within the specific statutory circumstances described in the provision. It sh

2026-08-24 11:46:18

Article 142 of the Revised Penal Code concerns "Inciting to Sedition." It penalizes, among other conduct, incitement to acts constituting sedition and certain expressions or publications that fall within the specific statutory circumstances described in the provision. It should therefore not be stated categorically that every online expression wishing harm upon political opponents constitutes inciting to sedition.

Likewise, Republic Act No. 10175, the Cybercrime Prevention Act of 2012, does not establish a blanket offense of "online hate speech" or "online incitement to violence." Among its specifically enumerated content-related offenses is cyberlibel, while Section 6 provides that crimes under the Revised Penal Code and special laws committed through information and communications technologies are covered by the relevant provisions of the Cybercrime Prevention Act, subject to its terms.

Accordingly, the legal significance of the Michael Vera post should ultimately be determined by competent authorities and, where appropriate, the courts—not by social-media commentary alone.

But beyond the question of criminal liability lies a more fundamental civic and moral issue.

Political disagreement is an ordinary and necessary feature of a democr

2026-08-24 11:46:23

Wishing for the deaths of fellow Filipinos

Political disagreement is an ordinary and necessary feature of a democratic society. Wishing for the deaths of fellow Filipinos because of their political affiliation is something altogether different.

Weaponizing a natural disaster in one's political imagination as a means of eliminating fellow citizens crosses a profound ethical boundary. It transforms political disagreement from a contest of ideas into an expression of hostility toward the lives and safety of other Filipinos.

A democracy cannot remain healthy if political identity becomes a justification for wishing mass death upon one's fellow citizens.

Criticism of President Marcos Jr., Vice President Sara Duterte, Rodrigo Duterte, the Marcos family, the Duterte family, or any other political figure is legitimate political discourse. So too is criticism of their supporters. But political disagreement does not require the dehumanization of ordinary Filipinos, regardless of whom they support.

When political partisanship reaches the point where a person can casually wish for a catastrophic earthquake to kill fellow citizens simply because they belong to the opposing political camp, society must recognize the danger for what it is.

2026-08-24 11:46:35

Politics should never become an excuse for abandoning our humanity.

'HINDI BA ITO ISANG SCAM...SA PERA NG BAYAN?'

Pinuna ni Presiding Officer Francis Escudero ang paggamit ni Atty. Amando Ligutan ng salitang “scam” habang binubusisi ang testimonya ni dating OVP special disbursing officer Gina Acosta.

Nag-ugat ito nang tanungin ni Ligutan si Acosta kung nawalan ba ng paraan ang publiko na mapagtugma ang mga dokumento sa aktuwal na pinagkagastusan ng mga confidential fund ng OVP.

Iginiit ni Acosta na hindi, dahil maaari naman aniyang tanungin ang kanilang security officer hinggil dito.

“Hindi ba ito isang scam o tahasang panlilinlang sa pera ng bayan?” tanong ni Ligutan.

Tinutulan ng depensa ang pahayag ni Ligutan, habang pinayuhan naman ni Escudero si Ligutan na gumamit ng angkop na lengguwahe sa korte.

Humiling ang depensa na burahin sa rekord ang naturang pahayag, na sinang-ayunan ni Escudero, dahil hindi naman aniya ito ginamit mismo ng testigo. #VPOnTrial

For days now, hot topic si Christian Esguerra at ang palitan nila ni Usec. Claire Castro. Parang national budget na rin ang diskusyon: maraming insertions, maraming amendments, at lahat gustong magkaroon ng final say. So sige, makikisawsaw na rin tayo, pero sana may konting due process ang utak. Pasensya na kung medyo mahaba, because I want to be fair to both of them.

Hindi ko personally kilala si Christian Esguerra o si Claire Castro. Hindi ko pa sila nami-meet. I watch both of them from time to time, pero wala akong friendship, access, loyalty card, o political padrino na kailangang protektahan dito.

After listening to both sides, ito ang tingin ko:

Claire is right about the inference. Christian is right about the inquiry.

Mali at intellectually sloppy ang "dalawa lang: tanga o kasabwat." Pero habang mas tinitingnan mo ang budget trail, mas lumalakas ang mas malaking tanong: paano nakalusot?

Unahin natin ang batas.

2026-08-24 12:11:39

Article XI, Section 1 of the Constitution says public office is a public trust. At in Labargan v. People, reiterating earlier jurisprudence, sinabi ng Supreme Court that a public official, "more especially an elected one, should not be onion skinned." In criminal defamation involving criticism of official conduct, mere offensiveness is not enough; actual malice must be established.

In simpler terms: being offended, by itself, is not a constitutional injury.

Pero hindi rin ito lisensya para mag-imbento ng facts or crimes. Kaya may punto si Claire sa "tanga o kasabwat."

That is a false dilemma if presented as the only two possible explanations.

Puwedeng complicity. Pero puwede ring negligent oversight, bureaucratic failure, concealment by subordinates, weak review systems, information asymmetry, or several failures happening at once. Evidence determines which explanation survives.

At si Christian mismo eventually softened the argument. From "tanga o kasabwat," napunta siya sa mas defensible na "baka nagkulang sa pagtutok."

2026-08-24 12:11:46

And frankly, that is the much

And frankly, that is the much better question.

"Baka nagkulang sa pagtutok?" is accountability.

"Dalawa lang, tanga o kasabwat" is a conclusion dressed as a multiple-choice exam where parehong bagsak ang sagot.

A journalist's job is not merely to ask hard questions. Part of the job is distinguishing what evidence establishes from what rhetoric merely makes emotionally plausible.

Pero dito rin kailangang maging fair kay Christian: the accountability question did not come from nowhere.

The numbers make it a serious question.

The proposed DPWH budget was roughly ₱898 billion. By the time the budget process was finished, it had grown to around ₱1.113 trillion. That is roughly ₱214 billion more, involving infrastructure programs that included roads, bridges, multipurpose facilities and flood-control projects.

Hindi ₱214 pesos ang pinag-uusapan natin na naligaw sa resibo ng Jollibee.

2026-08-24 12:11:49

the controversy was already

And before Marcos signed the 2025 budget, the controversy was already public enough that the signing itself was delayed for further review.

Marcos said they were going through the budget “item by item, line by line.”

Afterward, Malacañang called it an “exhaustive and thorough review.”

The President eventually vetoed more than ₱194 billion.

But here is an important number: only around ₱26.065 billion of those direct vetoes involved DPWH projects. Another ₱168.240 billion came from Unprogrammed Appropriations.

Now, that does not mean the ₱168 billion UA veto was meaningless. Unprogrammed Appropriations are standby spending authority that may become usable once legal funding conditions are satisfied. Vetoing them still matters.

But neither can the government invoke an “exhaustive and thorough review” and then act surprised when people ask what exactly that review caught and what it failed to catch.

Kapag ikaw mismo ang nags 2026-08-24 12:13:24

Kapag ikaw mismo ang nagsabing “item by item, line by line,” hindi paninira kapag tinanong ka kung bakit may questionable items na nakalampas.

And this is where Claire actually has another strong point, but one that cuts both ways.

Hindi automatic na ni-release ang lahat ng congressional additions.

DBM said around ₱783 billion in increases and new budgetary items introduced during the congressional process were withheld from automatic release. After the roughly ₱26 billion veto, about ₱757 billion remained under FISARO, or For Issuance of SARO.

Meaning: agencies still had to satisfy requirements before money could be released.

That weakens the simplistic argument na:

“May insertion + pinirmahan ni Marcos = inapprove niya ang corruption.”

No. Appropriation, release, implementation and corruption are different stages requiring different evidence.

But FISARO also creates another accountability question. 2026-08-24 12:13:28

But FISARO also creates another accountability question.

DBM itself said these congressional additions needed SAROs and Executive approval before release.

So kung may questionable project na hindi lang nakapasok sa budget kundi umabot pa sa execution stage, legitimate nang itanong: saan nag-fail ang Executive controls?

That is the stronger case.

Not “because Marcos signed 4,000 pages, therefore personally alam niya bawat anomalya.”

A President does not personally inspect every drainage canal, contractor, bill of quantities and concrete mixture in the Republic.

But presidential accountability is institutional, not merely ocular.

The better question is whether the government under his authority had adequate systems to identify, review, stop and investigate questionable appropriations and releases.

At may historical context pa ri 2026-08-24 12:13:32

At may historical context pa rito.

Marcos himself later complained that during previous budget deliberations, major foreign-assisted infrastructure projects had lost funding and needed to be restored because the changes were already damaging the country's credibility with international financial institutions.

Importanteng distinction: hindi magic Ctrl+Z ang presidential veto. A veto generally removes appropriations; it cannot simply recreate money Congress deleted.

Pero the episode still raises the same governance question: kung major presidential priorities mismo can be materially altered during the budget process, gaano kaepektibo ang Executive monitoring of what Congress is doing to its own development agenda?

Again, that does not prove complicity.

But it makes "hindi niya alam" a proposition that deserves explanation, not automatic acceptance.

At hindi rin sapat na sagot na whistleblower naman ang Presidente because he later exposed questionable flood-control projects.

That is relevant evidence in h
2026-08-24 12:13:35
That is relevant evidence in his favor. Obviously, publicly exposing anomalies is harder to reconcile with the cartoon version na gusto lang niyang itago lahat.

But whistleblowing and responsibility are not mutually exclusive.

A CEO can discover fraud inside his company and still be asked why internal controls failed.

A mayor can expose a ghost project and still be asked why City Hall paid for it.

A President can expose anomalous flood-control projects and still be asked how those projects survived the budget, review, release or implementation processes under his administration.

Whistleblower is not an immunity card.

Presidential signature is not proof of conspiracy either.

Both things can be true.

At dito ako hindi convinced sa isang bahagi ng argumento ni Claire: iyong paulit-ulit na "hindi niyo kasi nakikita" kung paano magtrabaho ang Presidente. She talks about seeing how early Marcos wakes up, how hard he works, how punctual he is,

At dito ako hindi convinced sa isang bahagi ng argumento ni Claire: iyong paulit-ulit na "hindi niyo kasi nakikita" kung paano magtrabaho ang Presidente. She talks about seeing how early Marcos wakes up, how hard he works, how punctual he is, how he behaves in meetings, at kung paano raw hindi nakikita ng critics ang mga nakikita niya personally inside government.

To be fair, firsthand observation has value.

Kung ang tanong ay "masipag ba siya sa meeting?", mas may direct evidence ang taong nasa meeting.

Pero insider access can give you better evidence. It does not give you a monopoly on truth.

You do not need a Malacañang backstage pass to examine budgets, SAROs, veto messages, audit findings and government outcomes.

Otherwise, sarado na ang journalism. Apply na lang tayong lahat bilang presidential staff.

And there is also a halo-effect problem.

2026-08-24 12:13:41

Puwedeng hardworking, punctual and personally impressive ang Presidente while an institution under him still fails.

Character evidence is not performance auditing.

Same with the flood argument.

Claire is correct that extreme rainfall and climate conditions matter when asking why an area flooded.

But that does not answer a different question:

Did taxpayers receive the flood-control infrastructure they actually paid for?

Weather can explain water.

It cannot audit a contract.

Hindi dahil binaha ang Japan, ibig sabihin may corruption dito. Pero hindi rin dahil may bagyo, nawawala na ang obligation nating siyasatin kung may ghost, substandard or overpriced project.

Different causal questions. Different evidence.

On Christian's side, may isa pa rin akong malaking problema.

2026-08-24 12:13:44

On Christian's side, may isa pa rin akong malaking problema.

He repeatedly described the backlash as "massive coordinated online attacks," "orchestrated," and possibly "well-funded." At the same time, he expressly said he was not accusing Claire or Malacañang of organizing it.

That distinction matters.

But Christian still needs evidence for the larger allegation of coordination or funding.

Maraming account na sabay-sabay galit can be suspicious. It can also be algorithmic amplification, partisan behavior, influencers copying one another, organic outrage, or plain old internet herd mentality.

Virality is not automatically payroll.

Again: evidence.

And this is exactly why I dislike political fanaticism.

Kapag idol mo ang politiko, criticism becomes "paninira."

Kapag ayaw mo ang politiko, every failure becomes "corruption."

2026-08-24 12:13:48

Kapag ayaw mo ang politiko, every failure becomes "corruption."

Parehong shortcut sa pag-iisip.

In the grand scheme of things, I actually think this controversy can be healthy.

Christian got called out for a bad binary. Good. Maybe commentators become more precise.

Claire explained that congressional additions are not automatically proof of corruption and pointed to vetoes and release safeguards. Good. Maybe more Filipinos learn how the budget actually works.

But the budget numbers also strengthen Christian's larger inquiry. Good. Maybe the Executive becomes even more paranoid next time before questionable projects survive review and execution.

If after all this the President, DBM, DPWH and Congress become 20% more praning because ayaw nilang marinig ulit ang "paano nakalusot?", taxpayers win.

That is one democratic function of criticism.

Pressure can create diligence.

2026-08-24 12:13:52

Fact-checking journalists is democratic

Fact-checking journalists is democratic speech. Journalists grilling government is democratic speech. Vloggers criticizing Christian are exercising speech too. Christian criticizing them is also speech.

Death threats, harassment, manufactured evidence and intimidation are different. If someone really sent Christian a threat such as “isang bala ka lang,” that is categorically different from telling him his argument was wrong.

The answer to bad criticism is better criticism.

Not fandom.

And certainly not threats.

Hindi lahat ng political disagreement kailangan may winner, loser at bangkay sa scoreboard.

Sometimes democracy is simply people checking each other’s claims, journalists choosing their words better, government becoming more careful, and taxpayers learning enough about the budget to ask harder questions.

That is not institutional damage.

2026-08-24 12:13:55

That is not institutional damage.

That is institutional stress-testing.

So no, the evidence before us does not logically force us to choose between “tanga” and “kasabwat.”

But neither does it justify shrugging and saying, “Congress kasi.”

When a roughly ₱898-billion proposed DPWH budget becomes roughly ₱1.113 trillion, when the President delays signing to conduct an “exhaustive and thorough review,” when only around ₱26 billion in DPWH projects is directly vetoed, and when hundreds of billions in congressional additions later require Executive-controlled release processes, asking how questionable projects survived is not disrespect.

It is literally what accountability looks like.

Ang obligation ng critic: facts, fairness and intellectual discipline.

Ang obligation ng public official: transparency, competent oversight and accountability.

Ang obligation nating publiko: huwag gawing religion ang pulitika.

2026-08-24 12:14:00

Politicians do not need disciples.

They need auditors.

'HINDI BA ITO SCAM?'

The impeachment court ordered stricken from the record a remark by prosecution counsel Virgil Ligutan questioning whether the Office of the Vice President's handling of confidential funds amounted to a "scam" or outright deception of the public.

Ligutan argued that because of how the transactions were handled, the public had been deprived of a way to match the paper trail, or documentary records, with the money trail to verify where the funds went. #VPonTrial

'HINDI KO KAYO PALULUSUTIN'

Mariing sinabi ni Private Prosecutor Atty. Lorna Kapunan na hindi niya palalampasin ang mga isyu sa confidential funds at COA sa nagpapatuloy na impeachment trial laban kay Vice President Sara Duterte.

"Nagkamali sila na ako 'yung tinapat sa confidential funds at tsaka sa COA. Hindi ko kayo palulusutin. I will speak the truth. And the documents speak the truth."

Ayon kay Kapunan, hindi kailangang magustuhan ang kanyang estilo—ang mahalaga ay tingnan ang ebidensiya, dahil ito umano ang nagsasalita ng katotohanan.

Ikinatuwa rin niya ang pagsasampa ng NBI ng kaso laban sa Bise Presidente kaugnay ng grave threats.

officials and how they acquired their assets is okay. Karapatan natin yan. Ang problema sa mga DDS, they question everyone except the Dutertes. They don't question where Sara spent millions of her confidential funds. They don't question her frequent travels abroad and whose footing the bill for such trips. These are just the tip of the iceberg.

'MARITES RIN 'YUNG SINABI NIYA'

Private prosecutors Lorna Kapunan and Amando Ligutan answer the questions of the media about Rep. Paolo Duterte's "Marites" remark and whether they will present Raymund Dante Lachica as a witness.

"Marites rin 'yung sinabi niya. Kasi factual lang naman talaga ang sinasabi namin," Kapunan said on Duterte's comments on Monday.

"For consideration kasi nga alam niyo 'yung mga bagay na 'yan, the entire prosecution team ang magde-decide n'yan. You cannot give a categorical answer at this point kasi nga everything is under consideration," Ligutan answered on the case of Lachica. (Video by Bella Cariaso/The Philippine STAR)

5 years of work, did justice !!! The animated film “Niu Lai,” created by a mother-son duo over five years with just a $200 investment, has now earned more than $5.2 million.

Working from home without a professional crew, the son handled most of the filmmaking and animation, while his mother wrote the screenplay, provided voice acting, and sang the ending song.

Their painstaking frame-by-frame work has turned a modest home project into an inspiring success story, proving that passion, creativity and persistence can turn even a small dream into something extraordinary.

NAKAPAG-TREE PLANTING NANG WALANG CONFIDENTIAL FUNDS

Iginiit ni Private Prosecutor Atty. Amando Ligutan na nakapag-tree planting activity si Vice Pres. Sara Duterte nitong Aug. 13 kahit pa walang confidential funds ang kanyang tanggapan ngayong 2026.

Lumabas sa mga nagdaang trial days na kabilang ang tree planting activities sa mga pinaggamitan umano ng confidential funds ni Vice Pres. Sara Duterte.

“Before po gawin ang tree planting, ang aming security officer, mag-conduct po sila ng surveillance kung safe ba,” saad ni dating OVP special disbursing officer Gina Acosta.

“Hindi po ba noong Aug. 13, ‘yung Vice President, nag-tree planting activity in Masibay Integrated School in Nunungan, Lanao del Norte. May confidential funds ba ang OVP sa taong ito?” sagot ni Ligutan.

“Wala po,” giit naman ni Acosta.

PRINCIPAL PA?

Imagine being a student and seeing your own school principal publicly mocking someone's disability or making comments involving violence. Anong aral ang makukuha ng bata?

Hindi porke't nasa social media ay wala nang professional responsibility. Ang school leaders ay may impluwensiya sa kultura at asal ng kanilang mga estudyante.

At lalo pang dapat tingnan kung totoo ang claim na nabigyan pa siya ng recognition ng DepEd Matatag. Kung mapatutunayang siya nga ang nag-post ng mga ganoong pahayag, makatarungan lang na itanong:

Ano ang standards sa professionalism at conduct ng mga binibigyan ng pagkilala?

Pero maging patas tayo: ang screenshot ay kailangang ma-authenticate, at dapat marinig din ang panig ng principal. Hindi dapat social-media trial ang maging kapalit ng imbestigasyon.

Kaya ang panawagan: DepEd, tingnan ninyo ito. I-verify. Imbestigahan. At kung may napatunayang paglabag [illegible] panagutin.

Kaya ang panawagan: DepEd, tingnan ninyo ito. I-verify. Imbestigahan. At kung may napatunayang paglabag itong principal, panagutin.

Dahil ang pagiging educator ay hindi lang tungkol sa pagtuturo ng subjects.

Kasama rito ang pagiging halimbawa ng respeto, dignidad at tamang asal.

Hindi dapat normal ang pangungutya sa disability. Hindi dapat normal ang pag-glorify o pagbibiro tungkol sa pananakit. At lalong hindi dapat maging normal kapag galing ito sa isang taong inaasahang maging role model ng mga bata.

‘MAY UTAK PO AKO, YOUR HONOR’

Wala raw ideya si Gina Acosta kung bakit siya ang pinili ni VP Sara Duterte para maging special disbursing officer para sa confidential funds, kahit pa wala siyang training para rito.

“Hindi po ba required sa SDO ang pagkakaroon ng common sense?” tanong ni prosecution counsel Virgil Ligutan.

“May utak po ako, Your Honor,” tugon ni Acosta. #VPonTrial

One social media post has turned into a serious problem for a teacher in the Philippines.

Zenith Enriquez has publicly apologized after remarks she posted about Palace Press Officer Atty. Claire Castro drew criticism online and were described by some netizens as threatening.

The controversy gained attention after content creator Lovely Granada called out Enriquez's post, which reportedly described what the teacher would do to Castro if she were a police officer.

Enriquez acknowledged making a mistake and appealed to people to stop circulating the post. She said the backlash has extended beyond her, with her children and other family members also receiving insulting and negative messages.

She specifically pleaded with the public not to involve her children or relatives in the controversy, saying the situation has already taken a heavy emotional toll on her and her family.

Meanwhile, Castro said in a vlog that the teacher could potentially face multiple complaints and consequences affecting her teaching license.

teaching license.

Whatever consequences Enriquez may face for her own actions, the controversy raises a separate question: when someone makes a mistake online, should their children and relatives also be dragged into the backlash?

A Father's Fight for His Son ❤️🙏

My name is zach, and I am a single father fighting throat cancer.

I never imagined that my life would reach a point where I would have to ask people for help. I have always tried to stay strong and face my challenges, but this battle has become bigger than I can handle alone.

Before cancer entered my life, I had already been through difficult experiences that taught me how precious life is. I learned to keep moving forward even when things became painful, and I learned never to take another day for granted.

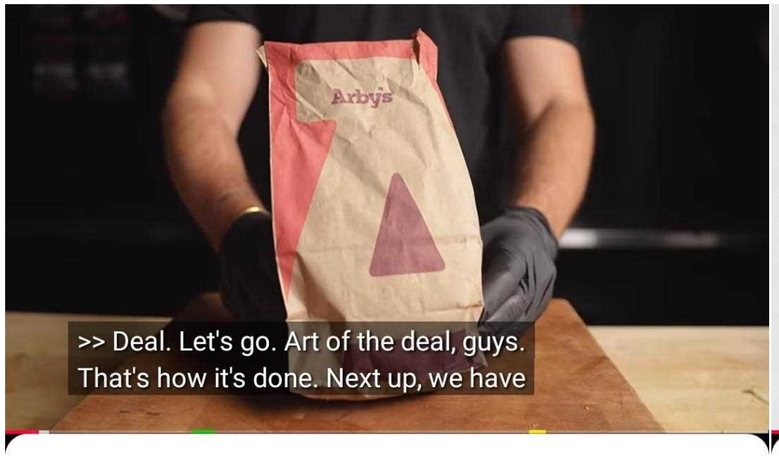
Now I am facing one of the hardest battles of my life.

Living with throat cancer has brought fear, uncertainty, and financial pressure. There are days when I feel exhausted and nights when I worry about what the future will look like. But whenever I feel like giving up, I think about my son.

My son is my greatest reason to keep fighting.

I love him more than anything. I want to watch him grow up. I want to see him achieve his dreams. I want to be there when he needs advice, support, or simply his dad beside him. I want to make many more memories with him.

Aug 24, 2026 14:38:57



I love him more than anything. I want to watch him grow up. I want to see him achieve his dreams. I want to be there when he needs advice, support, or simply his dad beside him. I want to make many more memories with him.

That is why I am asking for help.

I am working toward getting the treatment I need, but the financial burden is difficult for me to manage alone. I am asking kind people to support me and my son during this difficult chapter.

If you can donate, any amount can help. Whether it is $5, $10, $20, $50, or more, I will be grateful. If someone is able to provide greater support, that could help me get closer to the treatment and care I need.

To everyone who has already donated, shared my story, prayed for me, or sent me encouraging messages, thank you from the bottom of my heart. ❤️🙏 Your kindness has given me strength and reminded me that my son and I are not alone.

If you cannot donate, please share my story. Your share could reach someone who is able to help.

I am not asking for a perfect life. I am asking for a chance to keep fighting.

A chance to continue my treatment.

Aug 24, 2026 14:39:17

A chance to stay strong.

A chance to watch my son grow.

A chance to be his father for many more years.

Please stand with me and my son during this difficult journey.

Thank you for reading my story and for every bit of support you can give.

❤️🙏 Please help me keep fighting for my life and for my son.

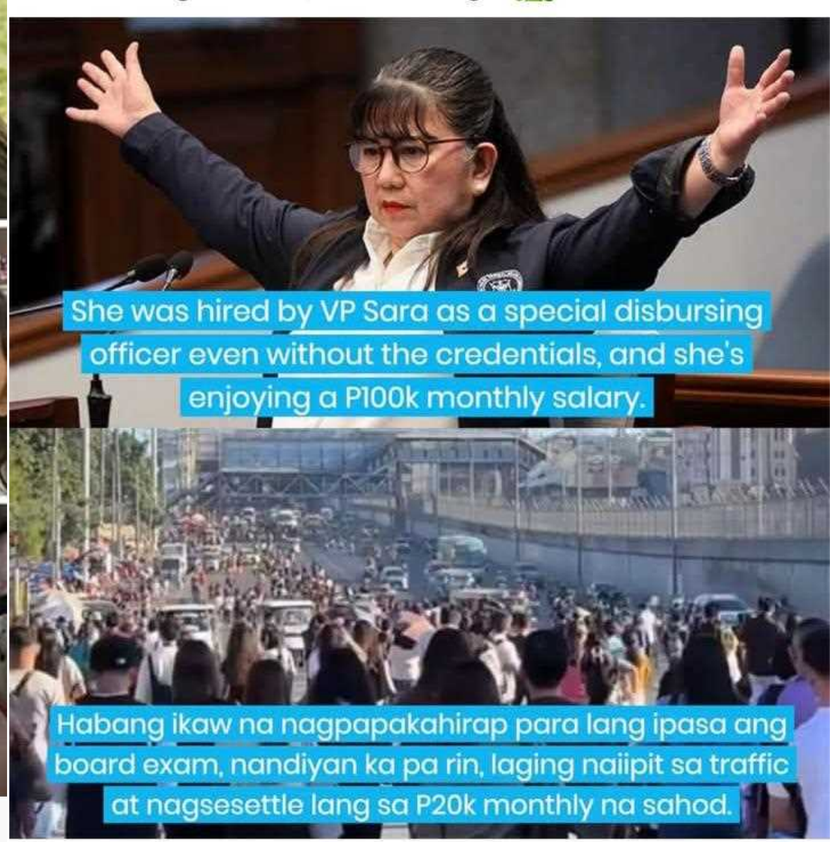
Sad reality na kahit gaano ka pa kagaling, kung wala kang backer, wala talaga.🤦



She was hired by VP Sara as a special disbursing officer even without the credentials, and she's enjoying a P100k monthly salary.
Habang ikaw na nagpapakahirap para lang ipasa ang board exam, nandiyan ka pa rin, laging naiipit sa traffic at nagsesettle lang sa P20k monthly na sahod.

'I'M SORRY'

Naluha si dating Office of the Vice President (OVP) special disbursing officer Gina Acosta nang tanungin ni Sen. Imee Marcos tungkol sa kondisyon ng kaniyang asawa sa Davao City.

"Kumusta 'yung asawa ninyo na binisita ninyo? Alam ko, undergoing treatment sa Davao," tanong ng senadora.

"Hindi po maganda. I'm sorry," emosyonal na sagot ni Acosta.

Bahagi ito ng interjection ni Sen. Marcos kay Acosta, na hostile witness ng Prosecution kaugnay ng umano'y confidential fund misuse ni Vice Pres. Sara Duterte.

A man like Randy Emmanuel Villar Bulanon someone who publicly advocates for vile acts against a fellow Tamaraw Mr. Falcis, demands that Mr. Diokno be stripped of his teeth, and insists that those living with disabilities deserve only mockery and desecration. One would expect such vulgarity to be met with quiet condemnation. Yet, remarkably, the Department of Education chooses to bestow honors and awards upon such a school administrator. It forces a reasonable person to wonder what kind of conduct is truly valued by those in authority.

'ALAM NIYO PO BA, MS. GINA ACOSTA, NA IKAW 'YUNG MAARING MAKULONG'

Atty. Amando Ligutan asks Gina Acosta whether she's aware that she can face imprisonment given her role as the former special disbursing officer of the Office of the Vice President.

"Alam niyo po ba, Ms. Gina Acosta, na ikaw 'yung maaaring makulong kapag napatunayan sa isang criminal court 'yung crime for example ng plunder. Alam niyo 'yung gravity ng isang kaso for plunder?" Ligutan inquired on Monday.

"Asked and answered, your honor. And the prosecution is badgering the witness," the defense team interrupted.

"Your honor, I am testing the credibility of this witness," the private prosecutor replied.

Presiding Officer Chiz Escudero overrules the objection, directing Acosta to reply if she knows the answer.

"Hindi ko alam ang ibig sabihin, your honor," Acosta said.

the answer.

“Hindi ko alam ang ibig sabihin, your honor,” Acosta said.

“Hindi niyo alam Ma’am na between you and Col. Lachica, kasi si Col. Lachica ay wala namang track, walang trace sa mga dokumento, ikaw ‘yung pwe-pwedeng makulong for misappropriations of confidential funds. Hindi si Col. Lachica,” Ligutan reiterated.

NCDA Strongly Denounces Insulting Caricature of Representative Perci Cendeña — A Disrespect to Public Office and Persons with Disabilities
The National Council on Disability Affairs (NCDA) strongly condemns in the strongest possible terms the recent publication of a caricature that depicts Akbayan Representative Percival "Perci" Cendeña in a demeaning, mocking, and highly offensive manner — one that clearly exploits and ridicules his physical appearance and disability.
This portrayal is not merely an insult to the person of Cong. Perci; it is an affront to the dignity of all persons with disabilities and a direct violation of the values of respect, equity, and inclusion enshrined in our laws and our Constitution. Mocking a person's disability or physical features as a tool of political attack is unacceptable, discriminatory, and has no place in civilized public discourse.

NCDA PRESS STATEMENT | NCDA Strongly Denounces Insulting Caricature of Representative Perci Cendeña — A Disrespect to Public Office and Persons with Disabilities

The National Council on Disability Affairs (NCDA) strongly condemns, in the strongest possible terms, the recent publication of a caricature that depicts Akbayan Representative Percival "Perci" Cendeña in a demeaning, mocking, and highly offensive manner—one that clearly exploits and ridicules his physical appearance and disability.

2026-08-24 15:42:20

Under Republic Act 7277 (Magna Carta for Persons with Disabilities), discrimination, ridicule, and the portrayal of persons with disabilities in an offensive or demeaning light are expressly condemned. Such caricatures perpetuate harmful stereotypes, reinforce stigma, and undermine the ability of persons with disabilities—including elected officials—to serve with dignity and equality.

Cong. Perci serves with distinction, competence, and dedication to the people. His disability is part of who he is—it is not a flaw, not a mockery, and certainly never a justification for disrespectful treatment.

To reduce him to a caricature that mocks his person is to disrespect the office he holds, the mandate he carries, and the millions of Filipinos who stand for an inclusive society.

Respect is a standard.

We stand with Cong. Cendeña, and we stand for a society where all persons are treated with respect—in words, in actions, and in every image we create.

Hindi po panahon ng paninisi ang malawakang baha, kundi kelangan natin magkaisa na magtanim ng mga puno para mabawasan ang baha. Mag ipon po tayo ng native tree. Tulad ng sampalok madaling tumubo, tayo na at magtanim mga kababayan ko. Kahit 6 o 8 ibakod natin. Meron tayong tanggulan, hindi rin yan madaling maputol ng hangin. Nakita ko malamig ang lilim ng puno ng sampalok di tulad ng santol, marupok. Maraming seedling sa kapitbahay ko.

BASAHIN: Humingi ng paumanhin ang School Principal ng Dimasalang National High School na si Randy Emmanuel Bulanon sa isang public statement, matapos na punahin online ang kaniyang mga shared post at ilang pahayag laban sa ilang personalidad tulad nina Akbayan Rep. Perci Cendaña Rep. Chel Diokno, at Atty. Jesus Falcis.

Kumalat online ang ilang post ni Bulanon kung saan nagpahayag siya ng mabibigat at personal na mga salita kontra sa tatlong personalidad, tulad na lamang sa kanilang physical appearance.

Sa pahayag, sinabi ng guro na handa siyang harapin ang ano mang uri ng consequence alinsunod sa mga alituntunin ng Department of Education.

Mariin namang kinondena ni Cendaña ang naturang pag-uugali dahil ito aniya ay labag sa batas, lalo na bilang isang Person with Disability (PWD).

STATEMENT OF APOLOGY
August 24, 2026

I sincerely and respectfully apologize for the Facebook reposts and posts I made, including the captions accompanying them, which may have directly or indirectly offended the good name and sensitivities of so many individuals particularly Atty. JESUS N. FALCIS, Atty. CHEL I. DIOKNO and Rep. PERCI V. CENDAÑA, to name a few, and to the different social and political groups and may have caused misunderstanding, embarrassment, or damage to their reputation.

I likewise extend my heartfelt and sincerest apology to the whole Department of Education, particularly to the Dimasalang National High School Community and stakeholders whom I have the privilege and the responsibility to serve.

As a school head, I fully recognize that my words, actions, and social media activities may be perceived as reflective not only of myself as an individual but also of the position and institution I represent.

Upon reflection, I acknowledge that I should have exercised greater prudence, restraint, and discernment in what I chose to repost and publish, especially considering my responsibilities as a School Principal.

Regardless of my personal intentions, I understand that the manner and context in which my reposts and post together with its captions may have cause offense and damage sensitivities. For this, I am truly sorry.

I take full responsibility and accountability for my actions. I do not intend to evade or diminish the consequences that arise from them. I am prepared to face whatever appropriate consequences may be imposed in accordance with existing laws, rules, policies, and procedures of the Department of Education

I also take this very sad experience as an opportunity for sincere reflection and learning. I commit to exercising greater caution, professionalism, and responsibility which I already promise to myself not to make any future statements and social media engagements especially politically-related, mindful at all times of the dignity of every individual, the trust entrusted to me as a school head, and the integrity of the Department of Education.

‘MEDYO MAGULONG KAUSAP ‘YAN EH’

Hindi raw tiyak ng abogado ni dating congressman Mike Defensor kung paano nadawit si dating Comelec commissioner Rowena Guanzon sa pagbawi ng testimonya ni Orly Guteza.

Nauna nang itinanggi ni Guanzon na may kinalaman siya rito matapos banggitin ni Guteza na may nag-alok umano sa kanya ng contact sa dating Comelec official mula sa opisina ni Sen. Rodante Marcoleta.

“I think it would be best for Atty. Guanzon to give the explanation herself. Medyo magulong kausap ‘yan eh,” saad ni Topacio.

Sa kanyang bagong testimonya, iginiit ni Guteza na sina Marcoleta at Defensor umano ang nasa likod ng pagtestigo niya laban kay dating House speaker Martin Romualdez sa Senate Blue Ribbon Committee hearing noong nakaraang taon.

HUWAG NATING HINTAYING MASIRA ANG KANILANG KABUHAYAN BAGO TAYO KUMILOS

Nanawagan tayo sa gobyerno na palakasin ang paghahanda at mga hakbang para maprotektahan ang mga magsasaka at mangingisda bago pa tumama ang susunod na bagyo o habagat.

Huwag nating hintaying masira ang kanilang kabuhayan bago tayo kumilos.

Kapag nasira ang pananim at pangisdaan, hindi lamang magsasaka at mangingisda ang nawawalan. Nababawasan ang suplay ng pagkain, tumataas ang presyo ng mga bilihin sa palengke, at buong bayan ang nagbabayad.

Nanawagan din tayo ng temporary moratorium sa pangongolekta ng agricultural loans sa mga lugar na matinding naapektuhan ng magkakasunod na bagyo at pagbaha.

Sunod-sunod ang sama ng panahon. Hindi pa nga nakakabangon ang marami nating magsasaka at mangingisda, may paparating na naman. Huwag nating hintaying lumubog muli ang mga bukid, matangay ang mga bangka, at mawala ang kanilang kabuhayan bago tayo kumilos.

Agosto 24, 1983: Umuwi sa Pilipinas mula sa Boston ang nagluluksang pamilya ni Benigno S. Aquino Jr.

Bakas sa mukha nilang lahat ang paghihinagpis dahil sa pagpatay sa kanilang padre de pamilya. Dumating sila sa Times Street at nagulat sa haba ng pila ng mga taong nais masulyapan ang katawan ni Ninoy. Humingi sila nang kaunting minuto upang masolo, sa huling pagkakataon, ang kanilang ama at asawa.

Humarap sa mga peryodista ang buong pamilya Aquino pagsapit ng gabi.

‘NAAAWA AKO SA’YO’

Senator-judge Raffy Tulfo expressed his sympathy towards Gina Acosta, former special disbursing officer of the Office of the Vice President, during the 17th day of the impeachment trial.

“You know what, Madam, from my heart, naaawa ako sa’yo. Naaawa ako sa’yo kasi I believe in my heart, hindi ka korap. Ni singkong duling wala kang ginalaw dun sa confidential funds na daang-daang milyon and bilyones,” he said on Monday.

“Ang masakit nito, ‘yung mga taong nakinabang doon, binulsa ‘yung ilang halaga sa perang ‘yun or totally binulsa ‘yung mga perang ‘yun, pangisi-ngisi ngayon habang ikaw dito gini-grill ka, pinagpapawisan ka. Kawawa ang dating mo at baka makulong ka pa. My heart goes to you,” Tulfo added.

PRINCIPAL, NAG-SORRY KINA ATTY. FALCIS, ATTY. CHEL DIOKNO AT REP. PERCI

Humingi ng paumanhin si Randy Emmanuel V. Bulanon, School Head ng Dimasalang National High School, sa mga Facebook post at repost na aniya ay maaaring nakapagbigay ng pagkakasala, maling pagkakaunawaan, o nakaapekto sa reputasyon ng ilang indibidwal at grupo.

Sa kanyang opisyal na pahayag noong Agosto 24, sinabi ni Bulanon na kabilang sa kanyang hinihingan ng paumanhin sina Atty. Jesus N. Falcis, Atty. Chel Diokno, at Rep. Perci V. Cendaña, gayundin ang Department of Education, Dimasalang National High School community, at mga stakeholder.

Aminado ang school head na bilang isang punong guro, dapat siyang maging mas maingat, responsable at mapanuri sa mga nilalaman na kanyang ipinopost o nire-repost, lalo na sa mga usaping may kaugnayan sa pulitika.

"I am prepared to face whatever appropriate consequences may be imposed in accordance with existing laws, rules, policies, and procedures of the Department of Education."

Nangako rin si Bulanon na magiging mas maingat at propesyonal sa kanyang mga social media engagement at iiwasan na ang mga pahayag at pakikilahok sa mga usaping politikal sa hinaharap.

"To those who may have been offended, hurt, or adversely affected by my shared posts and reposts, I humbly ask for your understanding and forgiveness."

"I am deeply sorry, and I sincerely hope that this apology conveys my genuine acknowledgement of my shortcomings and my commitment to learn from this experience."

Feast of Saint Bartholomew, Apostle | 14 August 24

Today, the Catholic Church celebrates the Feast of Saint Bartholomew, Apostle. 🙏✨

Saint Bartholomew is mentioned in the New Testament among the chosen apostles of Jesus. Many biblical scholars also identify him with Nathanael of Cana, the man whom Philip brought to meet the Lord.

Upon seeing him, Jesus said: “Here is a true Israelite. There is no duplicity in him.” (John 1:47)

Surprised that Jesus already knew him, Nathanael asked how this could be. Jesus simply replied, “I saw you under the fig tree.” This encounter led Nathanael to make a beautiful profession of faith: “Rabbi, you are the Son of God; you are the King of Israel.” (John 1:49)

After the Resurrection, he was among the disciples who encountered the risen Jesus on the shore of the Sea of Tiberias. After a long night of catching nothing, they followed the Lord's instruction to cast their nets once more and were blessed with an abundant catch. It was another powerful reminder that Christ remained with His disciples.

On this feast day, may Saint Bartholomew inspire us to approach Jesus with an honest and sincere heart. Like him, may we recognize Christ in our lives, deepen our faith, and remain open to the greater things God has prepared for us.

Saint Bartholomew, Apostle, pray for us! 🙏🤍

Every Year a Father Returns to His Daughter's Grave for a Single Selfie

A heartbreaking series of selfies, taken over several years now, has captured this father's silent and enduring grief. In a warm, sunny 2023 lakeside shot, Brian Diehl beams brightly beside his 13-year-old daughter Chelsea. Her blonde braid, her bright smile match his own perfectly, with both of them glowing away. Their life together looking simply perfect.

Then, so very tragically, everything changed for them. In the very next selfie from 2024, the same man now stands all alone in a cold winter cemetery, with a pink chair and flowers behind him, the light in his eyes simply gone. A year on, he returns again to that same quiet grave, now surrounded by soft stuffed animals and small signs, his weary face heavier, older, plus emptier.

By 2026, Brian is quietly photographed standing at a black granite headstone that now solemnly reads DIEHL, Chelsea. Her own smiling portrait is etched gently into the stone above the date it shows there, which simply reads March 3, 2024. He honestly looks, in almost every possible sense, like a completely different and broken person from the man in that first happy lakeside photo.

Aug 24, 2026 16:53:44

Chelsea Lynne Diehl was just 14 years old when she died on that same day in Lacey Township, New Jersey. She was an honor-roll student and competitive cheerleader who also loved her soccer and ice skating, lighting up every single room. Her father has quietly returned to that same plot every year since, with no long captions and no speeches, just a single selfie each time.

From today's featured article

Brochfael ap Meurig (ruled c. 872 – c. 910) was the king of Gwent in south-east Wales. He ruled jointly with his brother, Ffernfael ap Meurig. Gwent and Glywysing, the neighbouring territory to the west, were ruled as a single kingdom in some periods; at other times they were separate and the king of Glywysing had the higher status. Brochfael's father, Meurig ab Arthfael, ruled both territories with the title of King of Glywysing, but Brochfael and Ffernfael were only kings of Gwent, and had a lower status than their cousin Hywel ap Rhys, the king of Glywysing. The Anglo-Saxon kingdom of Mercia claimed dominion over most of Wales, but in the late 880s Brochfael, Ffernfael and Hywel submitted voluntarily to Alfred the Great, the king of Wessex, in order to gain protection from the oppression of Æthelred, Lord of the Mercians. A number of Brochfael's charters survive, mainly grants to Bishop Cyfeilliog and settlements of Brochfael's disputes with the bishop. Brochfael was the last of his line and was succeeded by Hywel's son, Owain ap Hywel. (Full article...)

ISYU SA IPHONE PROMO NI IVANA ALAWI

Pinagmulta ng Philippine Amusement and Gaming Corporation (PAGCOR) ang isang online gaming firm kaugnay ng cellphone givaway ng aktres na si Ivana Alawi.

Nag-ugat ito sa Facebook video ni Ivana kung saan makikita ang plano niyang ipamigay na 100 iPhones. Kalakip ng post ang pangalan ng gaming company na kaniyang ineendorso.

“We fined the online gaming company P1 million… and gave them a stern warning na hindi na dapat maulit ito,” ayon kay PAGCOR Chairman and CEO Alejandro Tengco sa budget deliberations sa Kamara.

Posible umanong maharap sa mas mabigat na parusa at suspension o cancellation ng license ng gaming firm kung mauulit ang violation.

Mga kasama sa wakas may nangyayari na tungkol sa influencers at artista na ginawang hanap-buhay at negosyo mag-endorso ng sugal.

Buti napag-usapan ngayon sa isang HOR hearing ang malaking issue ng online gambling advertisements, at lumabas ang punto na dapat equally liable ang mga gambling endorsers sa gawain ng kumpanya na binabayaran sila.

KUNG MAY MULTA O KASO ANG GAMBLING COMPANY DAPAT LIABLE ANG ENDORSERS NITO.

Lalo't-lalo na ang mga influencers na hindi regulated ang pag-endorso sa sugal sa mga online platforms at tinatawag 'tong gaming.

Dapat ipagbawal ang kumpanya na 'to na tawaging "gaming" ang gambling dahil ang salitang gaming ay tinatago ang totoong problema.

VP Sara appointed Gina Acosta as Special Disbursing Officer despite questions about her qualifications for the role — and she was reportedly earning around ₱100,000 a month.
Ikaw, nagpapakahirap para makapasa sa board exam, naiipit sa traffic araw-araw, at kumakayod para sa halos ₱20,000 isang buwan.
Siya, six digits ang sahod at hawak ang responsibilidad sa daan-daang milyong pondo.
Kung hindi ka galit dito, baka sanay ka na lang talagang apihin.

‘BAKIT KA NAGING SDO?’

Atty. Amando Ligutan looks into the educational background of Gina Acosta, former special disbursing officer of the Office of the Vice President, during the 17th day of the impeachment trial.

“I’m just curious, Ma’am, ano po ‘yung natapos niyo, Ma’am? Ano ‘yung college degree niyo?” he inquired.

“Customs administration, your honor,” Acosta said.

Acosta said she earned her degree at a school in Davao, and she did not take a licensure exam.

“Since wala kayong alam, ‘yun ‘yung pinapakita niyo sa mundo na wala kayong alam, bakit ka naging SDO kung alam mo?” the private prosecutor probed.

“Kung wala kayong training sa confidential activities, bakit po kayo ang napili bilang SDO para panghawakan ang confidential funds? Hindi lamang ng OVP pati ng sa Davao?” Presiding Officer Chiz Escudero asked, reconstructing Ligutan’s question.

PAG-POST SANG SIBILYAN SANG AI-GENERATED NGA LITRATO NGA NAKA-POLICE UNIFORM, PAGLAPAS SA KASUGUAN SUNO SA PULIS; SIBILYAN, MAY SALABTUN SA LAYI

Paglapas sa layi ukon outright violation ang pag-post sang AI-generated nga litrato sang isa ka sibilyan nga nakasuksok sang police uniform kag ginapakita nga miyembro sang Philippine National Police (PNP), suno kay Police Regional Office 6 (PRO-6) Director PBGen Randulf Tuaño.

Sa press conference sa Campo Delgado subong nga adlaw, Agosto 24, 2026, ginpahayag ni PBGen Tuaño nga indi kriminal ukon bawal ang paggamit sang artificial intelligence (AI).

Apang, kon gamiton ini agud magpakita ukon magpakuno-kuno bilang miyembro sang PNP kag i-post sa social media, mahimo ini nga paglapas sa kasuguan.

Posible ini nga masakop sang Article 177 ukon Usurpation of Authority or Official Functions kag Article 179 ukon Illegal Use of Uniforms or Insignia sang Revised Penal Code, depende sa mga sirkumstansya kag konteksto sang kaso.

2026-08-24 21:17:19

Ginpaathag man ni Tuaño nga bisan pa AI-generated lamang ang litrato, kon ang tawo nga naggamit sini indi miyembro sang PNP apang ginapakita ang iya kaugalingon bilang isa ka pulis, mahimo gihapon ini nga paglapas sa layi.

Nagpaandam man ang PRO-6 sa mga sibilyan, ilabi na sa mga kabataan kag estudyante nga nagasuksok sang police uniform para sa career day ukon iban pa nga aktibidad, nga maghalong sa paggamit kag pag-post sini kon indi sila miyembro sang PNP, agud malikawan ang posible nga paglapas sa kasuguan.

DUHA KA MERKADO SA SYUDAD NAGNUBO ANG INCOME; LEEO NAGHINGYO SANG CASH ADVANCE SA GENERAL FUND PARA PONDOHAN ANG ILA OPERATIONAL EXPENSES

Naghingyo sang cash advance ang Local Economic Enterprise Office (LEEO) gikan sa General Fund sang city government para sa operational expenses sang Iloilo Central Public Market kag La Paz Public Market.

Suno kay Viminale Capulso, Iloilo City Budget Officer, nagnubo ang income sang duha ka mga merkado.

Paathag ni Capulso tuga ini sang indi pa okupado ang tanan nga kiosks sang merkado.

“These subsidies and provided because of the fact that the payment of their utility expenses as of this time fell short of their estimated receipts because as you can see we have a newly operated market and our stalls not yet completely-occupied,” ang paathag ni City Budget Officer Viminale Capulso.

Sa kauna-unahang interjection ni Senator-judge Lito Lapid, kinompronta niya si Gina Acosta kaugnay ng nagamit na katulad niyang apelyido sa ilang acknowledgment receipt ng Office of the Vice President.

Matatandaang iprinisenta ni Atty. Lorna Kapunan ang ilang ARs na may pangalang "Beth Revilla," "Clarisse Hontiveros," "Jose Diokno Jr.," "Diane Maple Lapid," at "John A. Lapid."

Tugon ni Acosta, kay Col. Raymund Lachica galing ang mga resibo at nag-rely lang aniya siya sa kung anong binigay ng security officer.

"Bakit n'yo pinagkatiwalaan si Lachica? May nakita ba kayong background niya? Mayroon ba siyang intelligence funds sa office niya?" pag-uusisa ni Lapid.

"Hindi ko alam, Your Honor," tugon ni Acosta.

"For the first time, an mRNA cancer vaccine has succeeded in a late-stage clinical trial, a significant advance that could reshape how cancer is treated. On Aug. 19, 2026, Moderna and Merck announced their personalized vaccine, intismeran autogene, succeeded in reducing the recurrence of the skin cancer melanoma when combined with the immunotherapy drug Keytruda. While these results could open the door to a wave of cancer vaccines, misinformation about mRNA technology circulating since the pandemic could undermine its momentum before it reaches patients," writes Dannell D. A six-year-old boy went to school that morning and never made it home.

Pranay Tej, a student at a private school in Visakhapatnam, in India's southeastern state of Andhra Pradesh, died after collapsing in his classroom following an alleged incident involving a teacher.

Security camera footage verified by Al Jazeera reportedly showed a female teacher holding the child by his clothes before striking him in the face. The boy then collapsed.

His family said the boy appeared healthy before leaving for school and had even insisted on attending that morning. After the classroom incident, he was taken to King George Hospital, where he was declared dead.

The family alleged that Pranay had been physically punished because of incomplete homework. They also claimed other students had previously experienced physical punishment at the school.

Police are now investigating what happened. Importantly, authorities have not yet determined Pranay's medical cause of death, with the results of a post-mortem examination still pending. That means the precise circumstan at the school.

Police are now investigating what happened. Importantly, authorities have not yet determined Pranay's medical cause of death, with the results of a post-mortem examination still pending. That means the precise circumstances surrounding his death remain under investigation.

Andhra Pradesh Education and Information Technology Minister Nara Lokesh said legal action was being taken against those responsible and the school management. He also condemned corporal punishment, saying that violence has no place in schools.

India's Right to Education Act prohibits physical punishment and mental harassment of children in schools, with Section 17 making such conduct punishable.

The case has once again drawn attention to the continuing problem of corporal punishment in schools and the responsibility of educators to protect children in their care.

Discipline is supposed to teach children—not make them afraid of the very place where they are supposed to learn.

BREAKING: MONSTERS! Trump's ICE goons just dragged a mom and her daughter OUT OF THEIR HOSPITAL ROOM, with the mom in a NECK BRACE, after being injured in a dangerous car accident!

HAVE THEY NO HEART?

Ecuadorian mother Grace Calero, 39, and her daughter Giulianna Carriel, 19, were traveling on a highway in Florida when another vehicle veered into their lane and caused their car to flip over. While they were being treated at HCA Florida Poinciana Hospital, ICE goons busted in and dragged them both away to a concentration camp, while they were in the middle of receiving medical treatment.

Both women have valid work permits and pending asylum cases, but that didn't matter to the president's kidnapper squads.

Ever since Trump rescinded President Biden's rule preventing immigration enforcement from targeting "sensitive locations," we have more and more incidents of these jack-booted thugs invading safe spaces – schools, churches, hospitals – inflicting terror and trauma on everyone involved, not just their victims.

'ISTUPIDO KA PA RIN, PERO IN THE NAME OF BLIND LOYALTY'

Senator-judge Raffy Tulfo questioned former Office of the Vice President (OVP) special disbursing officer Gina Acosta's judgment after she described herself as an average person during the impeachment trial.

During the 17th day of the trial against Vice President Sara Duterte, Tulfo asked Acosta whether she considered herself "smart, average, or stupid." Acosta answered that she regarded herself as an average person.

The senator-judge then argued that an ordinary person would have questioned a list containing informants identified by unusual names such as "belat," "pagong," and "pusa," rather than simply accepting the information presented to them.

Tulfo likewise questioned Acosta's decision to sign documents involving several informants without seeking clarification.

"For me, you are stupid in the name of blind loyalty. Nakapikit kung ano ang sinasabi sa iyo ng nakatataas. Istupido ka pa rin, pero in the name of blind loyalty," he added.
